

These are a little tricky to create because the shapes that connect the halves of each puzzle are in the graphics layer, anchored to the text layer, and may jump around. They are grouped for each page. You can drag the page's group back to the spot you want them.

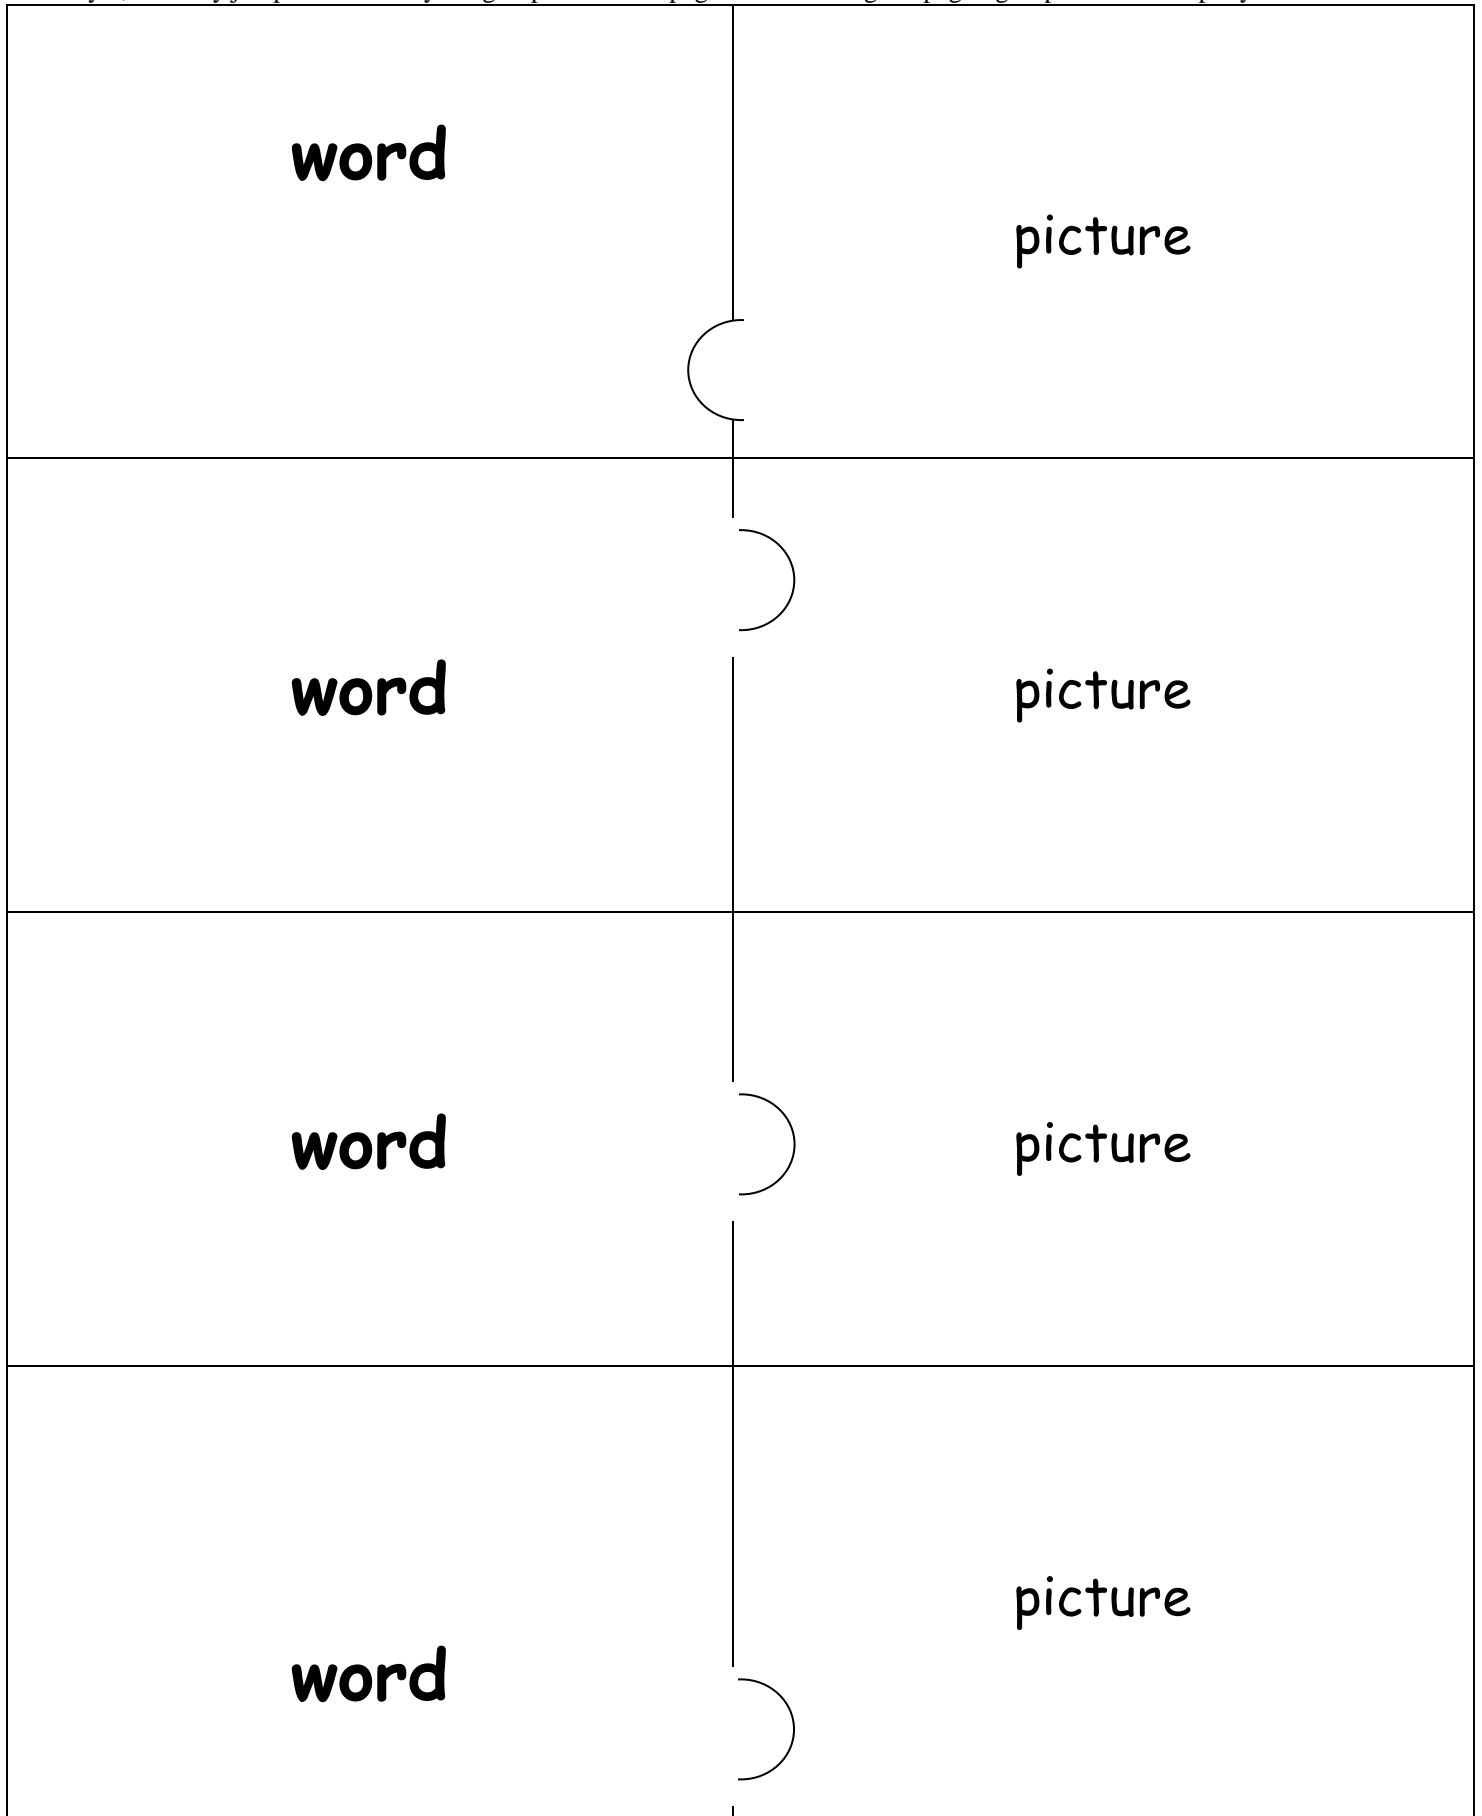

Matching puzzles

word	picture/definition /opposite, etc
word	picture
word	picture
word	picture

These are a little tricky to create because the shapes that connect the halves of each puzzle are in the graphics layer, anchored to the text layer, and may jump around. They are grouped for each page. You can drag the page's group back to the spot you want them.

These are a little tricky to create because the shapes that connect the halves of each puzzle are in the graphics layer, anchored to the text layer, and may jump around. They are grouped for each page. You can drag the page's group back to the spot you want them.

These are a little tricky to create because the shapes that connect the halves of each puzzle are in the graphics layer, anchored to the text layer, and may jump around. They are grouped for each page. You can drag the page's group back to the spot you want them.

